Vol. XXXV No. 5 / JANUARY 1986

Headmaster's Message

Ridley's 97th year kicked off in sultry early September sweat, but things have cooled off pleasantly for our 588 students. We lost no one to homesickness in the first month and a half — something of a record. Enrolment statistics (see attached) outline healthy, budget-exceeding, figures; our only regret is that we do not have a few more boarders below Grade 8, and few less in Upper School. The science labs are very crowded — which points to the necessity for the new flagship building to be undertaken by the 2nd Century Fund and completed prior to Ridley's Centennial in 1989. We have more girls than ever before, with more than 100 boarding girls occupying newly remodelled 'garden apartments' in the basement of Dean's and Gooderham East, and with four girls enjoying a luxury suite in the Schmon Infirmary!

Admissions Enrolment as at September 16, 1985.

GRADE 10: 59 new (27 girls, 32 boys), plus 47 boys from Grade 9. 83 total boarders; 23 total day students = 106.

GRADE 11: 33 new (24 girls, 9 boys), plus 68 returning (15 girls, 53 boys). 69 total boarders; 32 total day students = 101.

GRADE 12: 26 new (10 girls, 16 boys), plus 93 returning (28 girls, 67 boys). 88 total boarders; 31 total day = 119.

GRADE 13: 20 new (6 girls, 14 boys), plus 87 returning (31 girls, 56 boys). 80 total boarders; 27 total day students = 107.

Upper School Total 433.

Of the new students, 79 are from Ontario, 14 are from other Canadian provinces, including an unusual 4 from Quebec, and a very healthy 6 from Alberta; 8 are from the U.S.A. — 3 of whom are not U.S. citizens. 31 are from foreign countries other than the U.S. and Saudi Arabia (16), including an increase of 6 from Mexico; of these 31, 14 are actually Canadian citizens, leaving us with 17 non-U.S. and non-Canadian new students in the School. For the first time in a long while we have no new Venezuelans, and our new Trinidadians are down somewhat to only 4.

LOWER SCHOOL

GRADE 9: 42 new (13 girls, 29 boys), plus 33 returning. 47 boarders; 29 day students = 76.

GRADE 8: 17 new plus 25 returning. 26 boarders; 17 day students = 43.

GRADE 7: 12 new plus 12

returning. 10 boarders; 13 day students = 23.

GRADE 6: 5 new plus 6 returning. 3 boarders; 7 day students = 10

GRADE 5: 7 new. 1 boarder; 6 day students = 7.

Lower School Total: 159. 82 Boy Boarders; 64 Day Boys = 146 Boys.

5 Girl Boarders (living in Upper School); 8 Day Girls = 13 Girls.

Total Enrolment: 1985-1986, Boarders 87; Day 72 = 159. 1984-1985, Boarders 83; Day 67 = 150.

64 from Ontario; 2 other Canadian Provinces (P.Q., Alberta); 3 U.S.A.; 5 Mexico; 3 Bermuda; 1 Curacao; 1 Tobago; 1 W. Africa; 1 Trinidad; 1 Hong Kong.

New and exciting departures are: 1) the new academic timetable common to Upper and Lower Schools, with 50-minute periods; and, 2) the extension of coeducation to Grade 9.

The longer class periods are especially valuable in Grade 12 and 13 courses, but younger students have found them more than bearable. A veteran Grade 11 student in response to the question "What do you think of the new timetable?" replied, "Well the 50-minute periods are okay, but I don't like the 10-minute breaks in between — they destroy my concentration."! The Reverend Hunt and others indicate that the coeducational experiment in Lower School is working very smoothly, with almost no difficulties. The eight girl day students and five boarders in Grade 9 have fitted in extremely well, with the boarders surviving their peripatetic situation, living in a dorm in Gooderham East in Upper School, while attending most of their classes in Lower School.

The new timetable has allowed us to do two quite significant things: 1) allow Grade 9 students to take Grade 10 or 11 courses — over a dozen of them are enrolled in at least one; and 2) enable us to have 17 of our faculty teach at least one class in each of Upper and Lower School. This includes Mr. Kerry Martin, Mr. Chris Loat O.R. '62, and Mr. Frank Hollinrake O.R. '57, each teaching a class in Upper School.

The new Social Responsibility Committee, recommended by a commission at the School last spring, has swung into action already by sponsoring Ridley participation in the local blood mobile drive, and a Sunday collection for Mexican earthquake relief. A host of other extra-curricular activities keep Ridley students busy, including such new and different ventures as two students working extremely hard to pass their basic ham radio certification, and a group of students led by Mike Swayze '87, of Niagara Falls, ON, under the interesting sobriquet "The Ridley Devils" — not a group of midnight or any other time pranksters, but would-be printers! As this goes to press, we look forward to our many 4th Dimension Trips and to the conclusion of what has started out as a very successful Michaelmas Term.

This is the second year that the Guidance Department has reported the final destinations of the members of the most recent Graduating Class; and this year we have moved the process up so that this information is available in the Fall issue of the Ridley Tiger. I intend this to become a routine article in the Fall issue as we report to you the nature and quality of our most recent Graduating Class.

Most notable about this year's class is a growing diversity of location. The best example is the relatively large number that have gone to the University of British Columbia and the University of Victoria in the West (7), and Dalhousie and Acadia Universities in the East (6). Two of the Quebec's three English-speaking universities, Bishop's and McGill, also made gains to a total of 12 between them.

Interest in the U.S. Colleges ran high, though the number of those that actually went South was down slightly, from 13 to 11. Top colleges garnered the most attention, with students going to Stanford, Duke, and the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business. To demonstrate the wide range of interests and institutions in the U.S., specialty schools such as the Florida Institute of Technology and the General Motors Institute were also represented. Likewise, there was interest in small Liberal Arts colleges, resulting in matriculation to such places as Alfred University and St. Lawrence College — where a Ridley student went for the first time in recent years, we are happy to note.

Though the total class size was the same as last year, Ontario Universities were down by seven students, and at the same time, there were some interesting, though somewhat predictable shifts. Primary was the swing from Western, going from 16 down to six, to Queen's, which went from seven up to 13. Guelph University gained the most, moving from two to eight, and Waterloo lost the most, from seven down to one. While it is hard to definitively explain these shifts, we may well see a swing back next year. University of Toronto showed a positive gain of three to eight students, which may reflect the newly adopted admission policy to incorporate student involvement and personal background information into the admission decision — a laudable development that the major Independent Schools of Ontario were able to contribute to significantly in the conception, planning, and implementation stages, and a move we strongly endorse and hope to see introduced by other Universities. Queen's, too, has begun to move in this direction.

In the grab-bag category that defies any more definition than "Other", you will find anything from College of Art to a Coast Guard Academy, from universities in England and France to those in Guatemala and Venezuela.

Certainly, diversity and quality describe the Class of '85. It is from experience that I talk of diversity, for this class of 112 filed over 625 applications. The number of students who went back to high school dropped from 5 to 1, and this decision was more by choice than necessity. From the top to the bottom, the quality of the Ridley Class of '85 speaks for itself.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stone with Andrew Ross '86, current holder of the Hamilton-Stone Memorial Scholarship.

Hamilton-Stone Memorial Scholarship

The Hamilton-Stone Scholarship was established in 1966 by Mrs. Susan Mary Stone to commemorate both the late Headmaster of Ridley College, Dr. J. R. Hamilton, and her late son, Robin Lawrence Stone '64.

Ridley Wins at the Royal Henley

On June 24th the Ridley Heavy Crew embarked on a pilgrimage to England to bring back a Gold from the Royal Henley Regatta. The crew, coach by Neil Campbell, and managed by Carl Dorland, comprised Hugh Silk, Iain McMillan, Rob Picken, Dave Bryden, Spencer Kraik, James McKeough, Angus MacKay, Stroke Darby Berkhout, and Cox Tim Coy. Charlie Nickerson rowed with the crew as a spare and as a sculler.

On June 29th and 30th, the crew competed in the Nottingham-Newark Regatta, winning two 500 M sprint events plus a 2000 M race. As well, they picked up a convincing victory in the 2000 M Elite Eights Newark Rowing Club Challenge Cup. As well, Charlie Nickerson was a winner in the Spring Novice Sculls.

Early the following week, the crew travelled to Henley to compete in the Thames Challenge Cup along with 70 other schools and universities in a knock-out series, where only the winner would advance. On Thursday, July 4th, racing against King James College, they exploded from the starting gate and were never headed, a pattern that would be repeated for every subsequent race. As a result of their victory, the headlines of the Henley Standard cried "Ridley Too Good for Thames". The article went on to say, "Ridley won't get beaten in the Thames Cup. They are a league apart".

They continued to win further races against the Kingston Rowing Club, the University College of Galway, Ireland, and eventually gained a spot in the finals against the University of Dublin. For the first 100 meters the race was close, with only a slight lead at the hands of Ridley. Suddenly, through the speakers of the eight man shell came a loud but clear order to pull 12 hard strokes — one for every letter of Coach Neil Campbell's name. As cox Tim Coy barked out the letter of Neil's name, their lead increased from a half length to a comfortable one and a half, and kept increasing. As they crossed the finish line victoriously, they demonstrated once again that Ridley has been established as the most powerful name in high school rowing.

Alumni at Henley

The following Ridleians attended the Royal Henley: Bob Purdom '46, Tim Kempe '85; Ian Craik '74; Hoover C. Sutton '49, with the St. Andrew's Crew, St.

Andrew's School, Delaware, John Schram '58 as well as current parents Darcy McKeough and George Niblett.

Darcy McKeough, '51, and Bob Purdom, '46, enjoying the festivities of the Henley Regatta.

Ridley - Making its mark with achievements

Fifty-seven Ridley students in Grades 11 through 13 have season tickets to the Press Theatre at Brock University, and enjoyed the first performance, "Run for Your Wife", on 9 October.

The forum, Ridley Today, at Association Weekend consisted of a panel of the Headmasters, and six Upper School and two Lower School students: Noel Langhorne '87, a member of the School Life Committee; Adrian Calamel '89, a Grade 10 up from Lower School and representing the Great State of New York; Jennifer Macdonald '86, a Grade 13 Prefect; Anne-Marie Korber '88, Grade 11 new girl from Espanola, ON; Sean Boswick '88, from Halifax; Wade Gittens '88, Grade 11 from St. John's, Newfoundland. (Willa Minnes '88, new Grade 11 from Calgary, AB was unable to participate because of a conflict with her I Field Hockey game vs. Hillfield.) Lower School students: new female Grade 9 Petra Ribbink from Mississauga, ON, and veteran Grade 9 day student David Cohen, completed the panel. Dr. Ogilvie of the Psychology Department at Brock University delivered a Ridley Forum address on "Sleep & Dreams" on 7 October to a large crowd of 60 or more students and staff in the Double English room. Upcoming Ridley Forum speakers include Maureen Sabia on 12 November, and Dr. Cappadocia of the McMaster History Department on 18 November.

The annual officers and NCO's Cadet Mess Dinner on 15 October was honoured by the presence of two local members of the Board of Governors, H. Daniel and W. T. Bright O.R. '58, and the current and upcoming presidents of the Ridley College Association, Mr. Brian Jones O.R. '68 and Mr. Swotty Wotherspoon O.R. '67.

At the Nichols debate tournament on 5 October in Buffalo, Ridley students Nadine Karachi, Grade 13 from St. Catharines, won first in original oratory, and Hugh Silk '86, of Milton, ON, won 3rd place in the same category; Jamie McKeough '87, of Chatham, ON, placed 2nd in the extemporaneous presentation. On the same weekend at the St. Clement's invitational impromptu, a Ridley team of three seniors, Mike Swayze of Niagara Falls, ON, Bill Urban of Des Moines, Iowa and Steve Baker of Ottawa, did well in the first major competition of the debating year against strong teams from 29 schools placing 9th overall, with Mike Swayze 16th of 72 individual debaters.

The Conference of Independent Schools (CIS) is undertaking two new major initiatives this year: the boarding school members, together with three schools from Quebec, mounted a joint advertisement on boarding schools in the September 30th issue of Time Magazine (Canadian edition) to be repeated on 23 December; Ridley has received 150 inquiries to date as a result of the September ad; CIS, a group which includes both the headmasters and the chairmen of the governing bodies of 28 independent schools in Ontario, is seriously considering the establishment of a separate group to be known as the Educational Standards Association which would work to become an official evaluation and accrediting body for independent schools in the Province, and possibly by extension through the Canadian Association of Independent Schools throughout Canada.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Ridley College on Tuesday, 15 October, selected the firm of Moffat and Kinoshita of Toronto as the architects for the new flagship academic facility for the 2nd Century Campaign.

The Reverend Canon John Hesketh O.R. '45, Rector, St. Andrew's, Grimsby, ON, gave the sermon at the Association Weekend service in the Memorial Chapel.

Though it has occasioned some controversy, Ridley has its first two female cheerleaders this year in the expanded squad of 6 cheerleaders: Grade 11 male students Navid Khonsari from Barrie, ON, (recently elected Captain of the cheerleaders), David Hunt of St. Catharines, Shane Burch of Don Mills, ON, Tom Moyer of Beamsville, ON, have been joined by Grade 11 Heather Wedgwood of St. John's, Newfoundland, and a Grade 12 student, Karen Blackman of Trinidad.

On 25 October, Mr.

Wayne Fraser of the Ridley English Department, underwent the oral defense of his PhD thesis at University of Manitoba.

Several Ridley students participated in the Head of the Charles Regatta in Cambridge, MA, on the weekend of 19 October: Sean Gallaway '87, rowed for a St. Catharines boat; new Grade 13's from St. Catharines, Lilian Tomovich and Trish Crawford were in a St. Catharines Rowing Club eight; Jane Tregunno O.R. '80, won in the Women's Doubles; Ridley Coach Neil Campbell and cox Brian McMahon O.R. '77, led the Canadian 1984 Olympic Championship eight to yet another victory rowing under the Ridley Graduate Boat Club colours defeating 41 rivals in a 15-minute time, 18 seconds better than the closest boat.

Summer Time is Ridley Time

Ridley College was a busy place during the summer of '85. Co-directors Mike Hazell and Brian Ig-gulden guided the School successfully through its seventh Summer Session. When all the figures were tallied, over 6,000 participants had engaged in over 25 programs from June 9th to August 31st. Never before has the Ridley Campus been so busy during this 12 week period.

The mainstay of the Ridley Summer Session is Sports Ridley. For the first time in its seven years of operation, all the sports programs were sold out to the projected figures. This can be attributed to excellent instruction, outstanding facilities and reasonable pricing.

Sports Ridley Hockey Camp has recently established itself as one of the finest specialty sports camps in North America. The program was again directed by former NHL All Star, Lowell MacDonald. Other instructors who assisted Lowell were Dennis Hull, who needs no introduction; Tom Webster, a former 50 goal scorer for the NHL; Vaclav Nedomansky, the original super-star of European hockey; Rick Wamsley of the St. Louis Blues; Larry Landon, of the Leafs, Mike Lalor of the Montreal Canadians and Claire Alexander, a former Toronto Maple Leaf who is currently assistant coach of the Leafs. These instructors were assisted by an outstanding group of counsellors, including 4 of Ridley's finest: Steve Thom, Grant Kedwell, Phil Court and Walter Wellenreiter. A Lower School Junior Master, Karl Herod acted as the Head Counsellor.

In addition Ridley offered a special Goalies, Shooters and Scorers Programs, directed by Steve Davies and Bill Hawkey. Charlie Yanyk, a current Ridley student and Goalie for the first team, assisted as a Counsellor in Training.

With the insertion of 2 new Co-Directors, the Tennis Program was revolutionized. Over 270 people, directed by Vasco Mafil and David Lea, participated in the 6 weeks of programs. Vasco is a level II instructor with the Canadian Tennis Association and has 6 years of international experience. David Lea, a winner of 2 major Ontario Tennis Association awards for coaching excellence, assisted Vasco in heading up the team of 13 instructors which included Counsellor-in-Training David Ellison, a current student.

The 2 week Soccer Programs under the direction of former Canadian Olympic Team Captain Jimmy Douglas and Andy Corolis, a current Ridley staff member, ran very well. The regular Soccer program was complemented by a one week Elite Goalkeepers Academy, which was directed by Dick Howard, a former Goalkeeper with Detroit, Rochester and Toronto in the NASL and a Canadian National Team Goalkeeper. This program was one of the most intensive ever offered to Soccer's number 1 player. It was open to men and women 12 - 18 years of age.

Wil Debruyne ran an excellent Computer Camp for over 60 campers, aged 10 - 16. Wil was assisted in his efforts by Miye Kadonaga (OR '85). Students had their own computers and received 4 hours of instruction each day in pilot, word-processing, graphics and simulation.

Under the able leadership of Michael Scott, Gooderham House became the home and classroom for some 69 people, over the age of 60, who participated in Ridley's second Elderhostel program during the first two weeks of July. While in an 'Elderhostel' the participants were offered a series of mini courses, including courses in Environmental Issues, Consumerism, Social Institutions, Famous Failures in History, Realism in Literature and Art, and 'Greece from Myth to Madness' as well as visits to the Shaw Festival, local wineries and area tours.

In addition to the Summer Session Programs, a number of outside groups used Ridley as the site of their summer operations.

The Rotary Youth Leadership Awards Program offered a two-week leadership camp to over 70 men and women aged 17 - 24.

The Ontario Basketball Association ran its midget development program. This two-week program was capped by an international tournament of teams from Canada and the U.S. Over 200 people were involved.

At Henley time, the U.S.A. National Rowing team, the Ontario team and the Winnipeg Rowing Club (coached by Chip Purdom, OR '76) all found accommodation here.

The Hamilton Automobile Association in conjunction with the Hamilton Wentworth Police returned to Ridley after a year's absence to conduct a cross-walk guards camp for 200 youths.

Ridley dropped its own basketball camp this summer in order to accommodate All-Pro Basketball Camp. All Pro, which was formerly held at Trent University, is arguably the top basketball camp in the country. Over 300 campers, boys and girls aged 10 - 18, participated as both Tennis courts and the Hockey rink were transformed and used as courts.

Other groups that utilized Ridley's facilities this summer were the South German Youth Orchestra, The Mexican E.F. exchange students, The St. Catharines Soccer Association and The St. Catharines Touch Football Association.

The Ridley Campus also acted as the summer home for the St. Catharines Tiger's Rugby Club and the St. Catharines Cricket Club.

The Summer Session office is still located in the front of the Ig-gulden Building facing 'A' squad but if you happen to pay it a visit you are apt to see some new faces.

Mike Hazell (OR '73) has taken over as the full-time Director of Summer Session. Mike will be assisted in his capacity as Director by Brian Iggulden (OR '68) who will continue to play an integral part in the hockey program. (Brian will be spending most of his time working in his capacity as Co-Director of Admissions). Registrar Trish Loat, who has been in the office since its inception, brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the team. Diana Taylor is working, full-time, as Executive Assistant to the Director. Andy Corolis adds "Rental Officer" to his list of responsibilities, co-ordinating and planning the use and rental of Ridley facilities by all outside groups.

While the rental business is booming, the total number of specific enquiries about summer programs has increased from 998 in 1984, to 1,788 in 1985. The new staff will allow the office to service the existing business properly and to continue to develop new business.

Ridley was inspected this summer and approved as an accredited member of the Ontario Camping Association. Since its inception, the O.C.A. has emphasized the constant upgrading of camping standards and has worked to develop specific standards in all areas of camp operation: health, safety, leadership, program, site facilities and administration.

As the newest member of the Canadian University and Colleges Conference Officers Association, Ridley joins an organization that has been in place for 15 years and includes among its members 55 colleges and universities from across the country. This organization is involved in promoting the use of educational facilities for conferences, conventions, sports camps and training facilities. It also provides information exchanges about the different types of groups using facilities and the impact that such activities have not only on individual institutions but also on their communities.

Perhaps some lines from a "Tribute" written by Elderhosteler Mike Summer, 80, best sums up the vitality and variety of Ridley's summertime communities:

These halls of learning
most serene,
More than a century, the scene
Of growing youth - of child and teen,

How fitting we of advanced age
Our thirst for knowledge
here assuage
And learn, like them, from wisdom's page!

Great Ridley - you, who young and old
In learning's embrace now
enfold,
Will yet cast thousands in your mould.

Remember Ridley!

Have you ever thought of running a conference or meeting at Ridley in the summer? Why hold it in a dreary hotel when it can be held on our spacious 84-acre campus in an atmosphere providing an ideal environment for creative working encounters?

We have the facilities here at Ridley that could appeal to your organization:

- an excellent catering facility
- numerous classrooms for workshops
- swimming pool
- two gymnasiums

- Performing Arts Centre
- audio visual equipment
- tennis and squash courts
- a golf course only minutes away

We can also organize tours for your group to Niagara Falls, or a tour of a local winery.

BULLETIN

Hubert T. Mandeville wins CASE Award

Hubert T. Mandeville, a Vice-President and Governor of Ridley College, has been selected as one of the gold medal award winners for Volunteer of the Year, the most prestigious award presented by CASE, the Council for Advancement and Support of Education. Only ten volunteers in higher and secondary education across North America received this honour.

Named in honour of Ernest T. Stewart, the Volunteer of the Year Award recognizes distinctive contributions by a volunteer to a particular institution in any area of institutional advancement.

Westover School at Middlebury Connecticut and Ridley College jointly nominated Hubert T. Mandeville. Four additional endorsement letters were sent on behalf of the nomination from Joseph L. Molder, Headmaster Westover School; W. Lawrence Gulick, President St. Lawrence University; Donald C. McFarlane M.D., Chairman, Board of Governors, Ridley College; and S. M. Irwin, Past Chairman, Board of Governors, Ridley College.

It is with great pride and joy that we share with the Ridley Family excerpts from the summary of the biographical accomplishments and achievements submitted to CASE as the nomination piece. Timing of this issue of TIGER has allowed us to print pictures and memorabilia from the October 22, 1985 Gala Event at which Mr. Mandeville was honoured.

Hubert T. Mandeville, '40, with Fran McFarlane, wife of Dr. Don McFarlane, chairman of the Board of Governors and Jerry Packard, headmaster.

Volunteer of the Year: Hubert T. Mandeville

"There are not many times when institutions can join together to honor a single individual. Most people have time only for one institution, for their resources, time and energy to have strong effect.

Hubert T. Mandeville has given of himself in the field of education. His generosity has touched and changed the lives of many institutions in three nations. His belief in the power of independent education transcends national borders, institutional lines and the line between secondary and higher education. For him the principles behind the cause guide and inspire him to challenge and inspire others to carry out their work, to stretch beyond the normal boundaries of human effort, to seek the best.

A special involvement is with St. Barnabas College in Johannesburg, South Africa, a private secondary school of 300 students in grades seven through twelve with a stated policy of non-discrimination in the appointment of both staff and pupils. The majority of students are drawn from disadvantaged communities and they receive preparation for admission to universities. Financial support, which accounts for 70% of the tuition collected, is received both locally and from abroad, thanks to intense work between Mr. Mandeville and the headmaster, Michael Corke, in developing contacts with foundations and individuals interested in supporting the program. St. Barnabas College is the only school in South Africa eligible for membership in NAIS. The school takes a strong stand that the best solution to the problems in South Africa is to be found by educating black Africans within their own country.

Creativity and challenge are the hallmarks of the Mandeville style. He sees a need for the institution and then finds the way to motivate people to fill the need. Examples lie in everything he does. In 1978 and 1983, he established a scholarship program to encourage American students to attend Ridley College. By the conditions of his grant, he activated a recruitment program to reach out for students whose families might not have been candidates for private education, families not normally eligible for existing Ridley College financial assistance. These scholarships were to be advertised publicly and privately to extend the Ridley education on the international front. Similar grants made to Westover School in the late seventies served to generate an active scholarship program and provided an impetus to the admissions department.

Taking a strong stand for the case for endowment in private education, Mr. Mandeville has set high standards for development programs with his philanthropic gestures. Significant challenge gifts for endowment funds are part of his tools. He is solely responsible for the impetus which built the endowment at Westover School from less than $1 million to over $4 million, by his issuance of a challenge grant which the school matched 3 for 1 in a one-year campaign. Similarly, at Ridley College, a challenge is in effect to build endowment for the maintenance of the new facility for Sciences, Computer Science, Economics, Fine and Visual Arts.

Listening, too, is one of his strong points. When the students at Westover made a personal presentation to the Trustees asking for a second athletic field, Mr. Mandeville provided the funds to make it possible. He has similarly answered needs for computers at Westover, faculty education and travel to conferences at Ridley College, travel study for students in the glee club and other school groups, a special pamphlet at St. Barnabas for the promotion of the school at home and abroad, an enrollment conference on long-range planning and co-education at Ridley College, and the list goes on.

We take sincere pleasure in nominating Hubert T.

Mandeville for Volunteer of the Year for 1985.

We can think of no one more worthy of this award."
